“

Helping Hearts remains committed to improving the lives of homeless individuals and supporting the welfare of needy people through dedicated humanitarian initiatives. Guided by compassion and a strong sense of social responsibility, we strive to restore dignity, provide essential assistance, and create opportunities for lasting change. Our welfare initiatives include a Homeless Welfare Program, implemented through four key focus areas, alongside other programs that address the diverse needs of underprivileged and vulnerable communities.

Welfare of Homeless People

The program aims to improve the quality of life of homeless individuals by providing comprehensive care, protection, and opportunities for rehabilitation. Through shelter, nutritious food, healthcare, psychosocial support, skill development, and livelihood opportunities, the initiative helps individuals regain stability, dignity, and self-reliance. The program also facilitates access to government welfare schemes, identity documents, and employment, enabling beneficiaries to successfully reintegrate into society. By adopting a holistic approach, the project seeks to reduce homelessness, prevent social exclusion, and empower individuals to lead safe, independent, and productive lives. We specifically support homeless people with diverse and complex needs, including individuals with mental health challenges, persons with disabilities, terminally ill patients, and elderly people.

Through compassionate care, medical assistance, counselling, rehabilitation, and access to essential welfare services, Helping Hearts strives to address the diverse and complex needs of homeless individuals. Our support goes beyond providing basic shelter and food, with a focus on ensuring access to regular healthcare, medication, mental health support, personal care, hygiene, and assistance with day-to-day activities. Special attention is given to elderly persons, individuals with mental health challenges, persons with disabilities, and those living with terminal illnesses, who often require continuous and specialized care. We also facilitate access to relevant government welfare schemes and other support services, wherever possible, to help beneficiaries receive the entitlements and assistance available to them.

Our continued efforts are aimed at improving the overall quality of life and well-being of these vulnerable individuals by creating a safe, caring, supportive, and inclusive environment. Through sustained engagement and individualized care, we work to promote their physical and emotional well-being, restore a sense of belonging, and uphold their dignity, self-respect, and right to live with care and respect.

Through collaboration with healthcare providers, government departments, volunteers, donors, and community stakeholders, Helping Hearts continues to strengthen its support systems and ensure that vulnerable individuals are not left behind, enabling them to live with dignity, compassion, and respect.

Emergency Care & Short-Term Care

Emergency care and short-term care are essential services provided to homeless residents who are in crisis or facing immediate health and safety risks. These services aim to protect lives, meet urgent needs, and help individuals recover until long-term support is available.

- Rescue Services: Homeless individuals in distress are identified and rescued from unsafe locations such as streets, railway stations, or public places. They are then transported to safe shelters or care centers.
- Medical Care: Immediate medical attention is provided for injuries, illnesses, malnutrition, dehydration, or mental health emergencies. Basic health check-ups, first aid, medicines, and referrals to hospitals are arranged when necessary.
- Support Services: Counseling, emotional support, and assistance in reconnecting with family or accessing government welfare programs are also provided to help individuals regain stability.

These emergency and short-term care services play a vital role in ensuring the safety, health, and dignity of homeless residents while supporting their transition toward a more secure and stable life.

Welfare of Needy People

We are also committed to supporting needy and vulnerable individuals by addressing their basic needs and helping them lead safer, healthier, and more dignified lives. Our welfare initiatives focus on people who face social and economic difficulties and may have limited access to food, shelter, healthcare, education, livelihood opportunities, and essential government services. Through our interventions, we aim to provide timely assistance while also supporting individuals and families in becoming more self-reliant and improving their overall quality of life.

Our support includes safe drinking water, clothing, healthcare assistance, shelter and basic accommodation for patients' attendants, and access to essential welfare services based on the specific needs of the patients and attendants inside the Government Hospital premises. We also provide a feeding room to support patients, attendants, and other needy individuals with access to meals in a safe and dignified environment. To reduce the financial burden on vulnerable families, we provide photo-copying services at a subsidized cost for needy patients and their attendants, particularly those who require medical and government-related documentation. In addition, we extend support to elderly persons, persons with disabilities, individuals facing health and mental health challenges, and families experiencing financial hardship, while facilitating access to healthcare facilities, government entitlements, and other community-based support services.

Healthcare assistance and other essential support have enabled vulnerable individuals to access necessary services with greater ease and dignity. The programme has also strengthened community support by connecting needy people with relevant welfare services and other available resources.

Overall, the programme has contributed to improved access to basic necessities, reduced financial stress, better healthcare access, and enhanced dignity and social inclusion among beneficiaries. Through these continued interventions, Helping Hearts remains committed to ensuring that vulnerable individuals and families receive timely support and are able to navigate difficult circumstances with greater security, care, and dignity.

Public Healthcare Access & Support

The Public Healthcare Access and Support initiative aims to enhance the patient experience and improve access to essential services within government hospital campuses, particularly for economically vulnerable patients and their caregivers. The program provides volunteer assistance to guide patients to the appropriate departments, helping them navigate the hospital system and access timely treatment.

The initiative seeks to create a more patient-friendly and inclusive healthcare environment by addressing the essential needs of patients and their caregivers during their hospital visits. By reducing practical barriers and improving access to supportive services, the program enhances patient comfort, dignity, and convenience, particularly for economically vulnerable families. These interventions help reduce stress, save time, improve the overall hospital experience, and enable patients and caregivers to focus on timely treatment and recovery while promoting equitable access to quality public healthcare services.

In addition, the program will implement various welfare activities within the hospital premises, including patient assistance services, health awareness initiatives, distribution of essential items, and support for vulnerable individuals. These interventions aim to create a more patient-friendly, inclusive, and compassionate healthcare environment while improving access to public health services with dignity and care.
